

Made For You

Bespoke Door Furniture

Introduction

Yannedis is committed to offering unique and tailored ironmongery packages to every project it is involved with.

When a project requires a special design edge our Made For You bespoke service will transform your design ideas from paper to product. Working with traditional ironmongery manufacturers, we will provide samples, produce castings and supply your custom-made door furniture.

From modern stainless steel designs to brass and bronze restoration pieces, we will help to ensure your project is unique.

The ironmongery required for restoration and heritage projects will either need to be restored, have new items designed or involve a mix of both.

We have experience in sourcing and supplying restoration ironmongery, including matching new ironmongery to original designs.

We work with a network of skilled craftsman to ensure attention to detail to both recreate the past whilst ensuring the ironmongery meets with current regulations.

We schedule your project requirements with all items adhering to the latest British and European standards as well as meeting the requirements of building regulations and of course BS 8300.

The Architectural Division specialises in a complete solution, incorporating not just the door furniture but also the mechanical and electrical items required to ensure we meet the buildings design and security needs.

Extensive group wide stocks and our own in-house master keying facility offers the client security and gives us flexibility in meeting the most demanding delivery schedule with a comprehensive range of locking options from entry level through to very high security cylinders.

Also available group wide is the supply and installation of access control and door automation products as well as signage and wayfinding scheduling, anti-ligature hardware and mail systems.

Our Made For You service of door furniture is only one aspect of our offer and we would encourage you to contact us or visit our website for further information regarding other ranges and finishes: www.yannedis.com

Every project is different

Palace of Westminster : London

Architects brief:

Required the specification and supply of unique designs that needed to be created in detail to match new doors and those doors having lost their original items of ironmongery.

Solution:

Using our heritage knowledge, recreated ironmongery sympathetic in style and finish to the existing Gothic details whilst meeting current building design regulations.

Award:

Winner of the Restoration Category Award in the Architectural Ironmongery Specification Awards sponsored by RIBA.

Penthouse, Kenwood Place : London

Architects brief:

To provide a specification encompassing high quality, attention to detail and design.

Solution:

Bespoke door furniture produced in a high quality, natural bronze and nickel finishes.

To emphasis the creativity and high specification of the penthouse the lever handles are on a bespoke semi-circular backplate.

20 Palace Street : London

Architects brief:

To develop a bespoke range of ironmongery that would reflect the 1960's design era of the existing building.

Solution:

A range of square profile lever handle door furniture capturing the 1960's flavour.

Award:

Residential Buildings Commendation Award received in the Architectural Ironmongery Specification Awards sponsored by RIBA.

V&A Clothworkers Centre : London

Architects brief:

To provide a bespoke handle that was comfortable and practical but reflected the interest in good design that both the architect and client share.

The handle needed to be manufactured in various sizes and in nickel and stainless steel finishes.

Solution:

Yannedis developed a handle with the architect based on an existing shaped section of metal.

The result was a handle which complements a building that has history but also a new future.

The handle sizes, finishes and fixings were changed to suit the different areas and uses within this project so that the design theme is maintained, adding to the centre's identity.

Regents Park Open Air Theatre : London

Architects brief:

Required a bespoke pull handle for the box office and entrance doors to be a unique feature and complement other design details of the building.

Solution:

A full height, handmade pull handle with black steel ends to match the door frame and highlight the “golden” appearance of the handle grip.

This combination echoes the gold and black screens that are in use at the theatre.

The handle serves as an exclamation mark highlighting the entrance to the theatre as you approach from across the park.

Manor Court : London

Architects brief:

A bespoke handle developed from an idea of the clients, reflecting designs seen when in the US.

The brief also required the handles to be made in the UK, be of high quality and meet tight delivery schedules.

Solution:

The Concept Geometric Series.

Finished by hand and manufactured from turning a thick bar of solid stainless steel, this design met all the clients requirements.

Festival Theatre

Architects brief:

To develop a handle that had the advantages of a "D" handle but with more design interest.

Solution:

The Academy pull handle.

This handle retains the functionality of the basic "D" handle but adds an elegance.

Subverting the original design gives it a twist of interest whilst remaining cost-effective.

Made by us in the UK, the handle is available in lengths to suit the architects detail. A matching lever handle and other items in the "Academy" range are also available.
